.RITF – IAA Poland

We are pleased to announce that RITF is a statutory member of IAA Poland, part of the International Advertising Association.

The mission of IAA Poland is to foster the sustainable development of the marketing communications market. Its goal is to ensure the industry's growth while upholding ethical principles. The key values of IAA Poland are transparency, inclusiveness, and cooperation — and, above all, dialogue: both with external partners and within the industry itself.

IAA Poland is the broadest and most influential representation of the advertising industry in Poland. It is the only organization that brings together representatives of all participants in the marketing communication process — advertisers, media, advertising, research, technology, and other agencies.

We act on behalf of the entire community: influencing the legislative environment, promoting good practices, and sharing knowledge about innovations and new trends by implementing concrete projects.

Today, the IAA (International Advertising Association) is the most influential organization representing the marketing industry worldwide, bringing together over 4,000 companies operating in 76 countries.

The motto of the organization is "The global compass of marketing communications." The Association seeks to set the direction in which the global marketing communications industry develops.

Industry trends and the sector's future are discussed mainly at conferences and congresses that the IAA regularly organizes for its members
